Please note that representations, photographs, illustrations, virtual tours, models and plans may contain special services that are not part of the price - they are for non-binding illustrative purposes. In the case of real estate exposés, the built-up area is indicated in Spain, while the living space frequently used in other countries, where walls, terraces, balconies, etc. are only calculated on a pro rata basis, is not common in Spain. In order to make prices comparable, the net prices for new buildings excluding VAT (IVA) are indicated. Subject to changes, errors and prior sale.
